Brief Discussion

During the Covid-19 pandemic situation when the country spent her lockdown and all the educational institutions were fully closed, the academicians, teachers and students stayed at home and felt bored. Our life became uncertain, no one knows how long we will remain under this situation. The spread of CoronaVirus Disease has affected almost all the spheres of our life, physically, mentally, religiously, culturally, socially, politically, economically and psychologically or in the emotional fields. Education particularly classroom teaching has been hampered and ramped. In such a situation the Department of Political Science, Malda College, Malda and the Department of Political Science, Chandidas Mahavidyalaya Kujutipara, Birbhum, jointly organised a National Level Webinar on 'The Present Corona Crisis and its Probable Impact on the Ecopolitical Scenario of India' on 21st May, 2020. It may be mentioned here that, now-a-days a good number of institutions conduct webinar, but when we think of organising webinar many of our academicians hear this term for the first time. Although it was familiar to corporate sectors, for academicians it is a new concept as well as a new platform of exchanging and sharing our views and ideas. Through this webinar the keynote speaker, resource persons and the paper presenters have shared their ideas on the Corona Crisis, Ecopolitical Scenario, and impact of Coronavirus disease on various aspects of our life and society.

Honourable Vice Chancellor, University of Gour Banga, Professor Chanchal Chaudhuri and Honourable District Magistrate, Malda & Administrator of Malda College, Mr. Rajarshi Mitra IAS have given their kind consent to present and deliver their valuable speech, but due to super cyclone, Umphan severely heated on 20th May, just the day before our webinar. So they could not Join us. Almost 150 participants and paper presenters from 14 states including Jammu Kashmir, Rajasthan, Chhattisgarh, Bihar, Kerala, Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Odisha participated in the webinar through the Google meet virtual meeting link.

The webinar started with the short introduction of the guests and resource persons by Sri Chandan Roy, Joint Convener of the webinarorganising committee, followed by an inaugural
